Jamey, Terra, Stephanie, Christina, and KC get ready for JP in the LP!

Diana helps Dan look nice before JP!

I'm Too Sexy For ...

Real Clothes

Abercrombie

Wearing scrubs

A bad hair day

Anything but Uggs

But not too sexy for ...

Matching

For getting drenched
walking across far

Wearing our uniforms to school

Hingham Paraphernalia

Or for matching with my entire English class!

It was the best of times ...

study in the senior lounge

beating the other team

study parties at the H.P.L.

being nominated for Homecoming King or Queen

aceing your WAC

getting hit by someone rushing down the stairs

walking across far ...

It was the worst of times

the library's rule about signing up for study hall ...

the janitors locking the bathrooms immediately after school

being the only one in class on Senior Skip Day

trying to do homework, and ending up on Facebook

HOW FAR WE'VE COME!

Class of '09 Expect Great Things

Ryan Driscoll

"Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure. It is our light, not our darkness, that most frightens us. We ask ourselves, who are you not to be? You are a child of God. Your playing small does not serve the world. There is nothing enlightened about shrinking so that other people won't feel insecure around you. We are all meant to shine, as children do. We were born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us. It's not just in some of us; it's in everyone. And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same. As we are liberated from our own fear, our presence automatically liberates others."

The warmth of your love
is like the warmth of the sun
and this will be our year
took a long time to come
don't let go of my hand
now darkness has gone
and this will be our year
took a long time to come
and I won't forget
the way you held me up when I was down
and I won't forget the way you said,
"Darling I love you"
You gave me faith to go on
Now we're there and we've only just begun
This will be our year
took a long time to come.

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; because there is not effort without error and shortcomings; but who does actually strive to do the deed; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotion, who spends himself in a worthy cause, who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement and who at the worst, if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly. So that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat."

Everyday during my 4 years of high school, I tried to accomplish something different. Some days I succeeded, others were days I'd rather forget. But when it's all said and done, the high school experience was everything I expected, and then some. You never quite knew what was going to happen next. The Road goes ever on and on down from the door where it began. Now far ahead the Road has gone, and I must follow, if I can, pursuing it with eager feet, until it joins some larger way where many paths and errands meet.

And whither then?

I cannot say. It's not always the understanding of life that is important, but rather the believing in the wonder of it.

One felt as if there was an enormous well behind them, filled up with ages of memory and long, slow, steady thinking; but their surface was sparkling with the present: like sun shimmering on the outer leaves of a vast tree, or the ripples of a very deep lake. A story never really ends; you just run out of pages to write it down on. Am. Stud. '07-'08.

"The planet can look small, and an adventure exciting. You can chart out detailed routes and plan to cover thousands of miles and many months. It can all seem so straightforward and plausible. But then you find yourself in one particular place at one particular time, and the world feels as vast as it is."

Mom + Dad: Thanks for raising me well. Matthew + Casey: you guys are awesome, too. I love you.

To my friends: I wouldn't be the same without you all. Continue to be happy, healthy and amazing. I love you more than I could ever express.

Sooner or later we all discover that the important moments in life are not the advertised ones. The real milestones come unannounced and simply never leave. Our lives are measured by these moments.

We're never gonna survive unless we get a little crazy.

NEW ORLEANS RAPPER LIL WAYNE grew his fan base with free songs, then sold more than a million copies of "Tha Carter III" in a week, the first album since 2005 to do so.

OBAMA'S NOMINATION

made history when, on June 3, 2008, Barack Obama finally had what he needed — more than 2,118 delegates — to clinch the Democratic nomination and become the first African-American with a viable chance of winning the United States presidency. Obama, an Illinois senator in office less than four years, and New York senator and former First Lady Hillary Clinton had campaigned from coast to coast for months for the right to face Republican John McCain in the Nov. 4 general election.

"THE DARK KNIGHT,"

a sequel to Christopher Nolan's "Batman Begins," shattered box office records with its July release. In just 10 days, the superhero thriller brought in more than $300 million at the box office, eclipsing the mark held by "Dead Man's Chest" by nearly a week. Filmed in Chicago, the movie's special effects, musical scores and viral marketing added to its allure and mystique. "The Dark Knight" was nominated for eight Academy Awards, including a posthumous nod for Heath Ledger (for Best Supporting Actor as the Joker). Attempting to enhance its Oscar-winning chances and to surpass $1 billion in worldwide gross, the film was re-released on Jan. 23, 2009.
